

Massage Therapists Sports Medicine

Benefits of Emu Oil

Australian Coast

The Emu Man Emu oil is ideal for use in massage therapy because research has shown of its anti-inflammatory, non-irritating and non-comedogenic properties. With the ability to penetrate deep into the skin, it's great as a body moisturizer and analgesic. The Emu Man Emu oil is rapidly absorbed and leaves the skin with a polished, silky texture with no greasy feel to the skin. It lubricates the skin and helps to reduce moisture loss, enabling the skin to re-moisturize itself by trapping moisture from the lower cell layers and rejuvenate the skin cells.

Emu Oil naturally contains high levels of Linolenic Acid, a substance known to ease muscle aches and joint pain, and Oleic Acid, which provides anti-inflammatory effect. These acids also cause the oil to be highly penetrating.

The benefits of Emu oil on joints to reduce pain, swelling and stiffness is most evident where the joint is close to the skin surface, such as hands, feet, knees, elbows, and back.

Stiff joints are one area where massaging Emu oil is of considerable benefit. The anti-inflammatory properties assist in the pain relief.

Emu oil appears to provide significant benefit to bruising and muscle pain where the injury is relatively superficial. The treatment of massaging the affected area is seeing the best results. Similarly sports related muscle strains have been significantly reduced with post exercise Emu oil massage. Many trainers and massage therapists are using Emu oil with their massage oil treatment and indicating a superior anti-inflammatory action over commonly used lotions and oils.

In the sports industry, Emu products have proven their remarkable value for the relief of pain and increased mobility of many different ailments.

The Emu Man Emu oil mixes well with other oils and scents to create your own soothing massage oils. It has been proven that when added to other ingredients it heals many afflictions that doctors had given up on after using numerous varieties of standard and sometimes radical treatments.

THE EMU MAN®

Australian Coast Products